holidays on Monday. The children of the Protestant school presented their teacher Miss Ida Morrison with a copy of Longfellow's poems as a Christmas present; Miss Morrison has severed her connection with the school and will leave for Winnipeg by the next stage.

The Xmas festival of the Presbyterian Sunday School was held at 7 o'clock Xmas Eve; in addition to the distribution of prizes there was singing, recitations and a tableau by the children. Divine Service was held in St. George's church Christmas morning at 11 o'clock. The The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the close of the service. Midnight mass was celebrated in the R. C. church on Xmas eve.

The 27th being St. John's day the Free Masons of Battleford assembled in their lodge room at 1.30 p.m. and marched, dressed in regalia, from the lodge room to St. George's church to attend divine service, which commenced at 2.30 p.m. A sermon on the Symbolic teachings of Free Masonry was preached by the Rev. E. K. Matheson.

DUCK LAKE.

Christmas passed off very quietly. Midnight services were held in the church and were well attended.

On Sunday the sleeping rooms of Madigan's camp took fire, but it was put out before much damage was done. A number of men lost their clothing and bedding.

On Christmas eve one of Madigan's men got kicked in the mouth by a horse making an ugly wound. Dr. Willoghby, of this place, was summoned.

Several of our town's people went to Prince Albert this week to attend the Masonic ball.

Mrs. Deacon has fully recovered from her late illness and leaves for home to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, of Prince Albert, are still here.

It is rumored that several of your town's people will make Duck Lake their home in the spring.

The proprietor of the Duck Lake House has had a very handsome sign put up which decidedly improves the appearance of the hotel.

Miss Hill, a passenger on the down stage, had one of her feet frozen between here and Prince Albert.

A petition is being circulated here asking the Government to continue the French language in the Assembly and not to interfere with the school system.

Toussaint Lucier, of Carlton, has another attack of sickness similar to the one during the summer.

Mr. John McKenzie sent two of his children to your town this week, to attend school there.

The weather is mild and the roads fine.

CLARK'S CROSSING.

Madigan's team's are making regular trips between the lumber camp and end of track, carrying large quantities of supplies for the former.

The youth and beauty of Saskatoon were assembled at the Garrison House last night, where a very pleasant dance terminated the Christmas festivities.

The Church goes to have their innings at a tea meeting on New Year's night.

We don't imply by this that there is no youth or beauty among Church goes.

Mr. Salisbury of the Government Telegraph Service at Henrietta was at the Crossing on Monday. He reports a greater depth of snow in the neighbourhood of the North branch than here and that there is less travel than usual on the trail.

Santa Claus' visit to the little ones has been attended with the usual crop of dyspepsia and stomach ache and the enjoyment of bon-bons, plum loaf, etc. etc., has all been forgotten in less palatable doses of castor oil and paragon.

The pupils of Aroline School are having their holidays and the teacher, Mr. Skaffe, is spending a few days with friends in Saskatoon.

NEWS FROM ALL POINTS.

(By Special Telegraph.)

Pugilistic.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 27.—Slavin, the Australian champion pugilist, fought Jim Smith, the English champion, at Bruges, Belgium, on Monday last. Slavin had the best of the fight but was repeatedly assaulted by Smith's friends, and on appealing to the referee for fair play, the latter declared the fight a draw and left the ring. The Pelican Club, of London, subsequently resolved to recognize Slavin as champion and presented him with the belt and purse.

Tenders asked for.

The lease of the Alaska Commercial Co. having expired, the United States Government has called for tenders for the sealing privileges in Alaskan waters. The privileges to go to the highest bidder.

HYPOCRISY OR LIBEL.

Yesterday's issue of the Saskatchewan announces that there are two candidates in the field for the may-orality of this town for the year 1890.
It says that the two are John Stewart and Mayor Knowles. It further advocates the candidacy of Mr.
Stewart on the ground that he is a merchant and not a large property owner, and opposes Mr. Knowles on this ground—amongst others—that he is a large property owner and that no large property owner should be elected. In the first place we do not agree with our local cotemporaty that large property owners should not be elected. Who are the men
most likely to keep down taxation,
those who have hundreds of dollars
of taxes to pay on what may be unproductive property, or those who only have a few dollars to pay on property that they may rid themselves of in a few days? We say, give us men with some large and permanent stake in the town. In the next place we ask the Saskatchewan who are Mr. Stewart's supporters? Three of the large property owners of the west end. And why?
Because we believe that Mr. Stewart has placed himself under the control of those men in order to get their support, and is perfectly willing to be the candidate of the large property owners. The Saskatchewan also objects to Mr. Knowles on the ground that he expressed annexation sentiments at Ottawa. It was aware of that over two weeks ago. Why did it not take the matter up then?
THE TIMES took Mr. Knowles to task for his alleged utterances in favor of annexation two weeks ago,
and last week we gave his denial editorially. The Saskatchewan saw our last week's issue, but it did not suit its purpose just at that time to refer to the matter. If Mr. Knowles had retired, or rather had not announced himself as an opponent of Mr. Stewart, our cotemporaty would not have referred to the matter. It would have been ignored. But the moment Mr. Knowles enters the field it takes it up, and why? Not because it is loyal, but because,
it hopes to turn a few votes against Mr. Knowles and in favor of one of the proprietors of the paper referred to. It says Mr. Knowles should not have gone to Ottawa.
Whose business is it where Mr.
Knowles goes? We believe Mr.
Knowles did good service for this town and district on his recent visit to Ontario. His visit will result in an influx of visitors, settlers and capital, and he is more deserving of our thanks than of our censure. The Saskatchewan may make its mind easy on one thing, and that is that its candidate will not be Mayor of Prince Albert for 1890, and it may save itself the trouble of trying to set one end of the town against the other. It had better endeavor to carry out the pledges it made to the public in its first number, which came out under the name of the Critic. The annexation sentiments attributed to Mr. Knowles were a pure fabrication. Where did that alleged interview first appear? In the Liberal press all over Canada,

and next in the Yankee newspapers.
A reporter at Ottawa, in order to score a point against Sir John Macdonald, fabricated the whole miserable business, and with shameless and reckless speed flashed it over the wires in order that the minds of a few might be won from the cause of upright and good government.
If the Saskatchewan wishes to oppose Mr. Knowles it has a perfect right to, but let it do so in an open,
manly and straightforward manner,
and not strike below the belt. Verb.
Sap.

The Town Council met on Monday evening and after passing some accounts adjourned till 3 o'clock to-morrow.

The officers of Kinitino Lodge, A.F.
& A.M., were installed by W. Bro. T. J.
Agnew, D.D.G.M., this afternoon, as follows:—W.M., Dr. Bain (re-elected);
S.W., J. F. A. Stull; J.W., R. B. Way;
Treas., John McTaggart; Sec., A. R.
Burns; Chap., Rev. J. Flett, P.M.; S.D.,
A. C. Davidson; J.D., T. E. Bain; S.S., J. F. Betts; J.S., Geo. Love; I.G., J.
M. Coombs; Tyler, Wm. Dreaver.

As is customary in the Roman Catholic Church, midnight mass was celebrated in their church here on Christmas Eve. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, there not being an inch of standing room unoccupied. As usual a very large proportion of the audience was Protestant.
Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Dummeau and was one of the finest ever performed here, the music being particularly good and impressive. A very able and eloquent sermon was preached by the Rev. Father Maessens from the text "Glory to God in the highest and to men of good will on earth." (Luke II. 14). His remarks were chiefly directed against the sin of intemperance, and were attentively listened to throughout. A very handsome sum was realized from its offertory.

ST. ANDREW'S DINNER.

The sons of Scotia did honor to the memory of their patron saint on the evening of the 13th inst. by a dinner at the Leland House. As satisfactory arrangements could not be made for St. Andrew's day, it was decided to postpone the celebration to the date mentioned rather than let the festival pass "unhonored and unused." The dinner was prepared in the very best style of the proprietor of the Leland and the bill of fare, consisting of seven courses, contained all the delicacies of the country and season, that famous mystery of the culinary art—so dear to Scotchmen, and without which a St. Andrew's dinner would not be esteemed worthy of the name—a "haggis." The last named dish, contrary, we believe, to ancient and time-honored custom, was not received with Highland honors. This want of respect may be accounted for by the fact that the aforesaid comestible was not very well made, and the canny Scots present, doubtless, were able to divine the fact in advance, owing to the faculty known as the "second sight" brought into play. However the haggis, good or bad, though it may have been; had scarcely appeared before it began to disappear, and it did not take many minutes to accomplish that feat. The walls of the dining room bore mottoes and inscriptions suitable to the occasion.

About fifty sat down to dinner, among whom were: Messrs John Stewart, D.H. Macdonald, M.P., Capt. Craig, Dr. Jardine, Dr. Bain, Jas. Macarthur, W.R. Gunn, A.S. Stewart, J.E. Stewart, Geo. T. Brown, H. McColl, A. Thompson, R. Gwynne, G. Russell, W. Dixon, T. Borthwick, Jas. McKay, R.C. Wignmore, Jos. Wignmore, D.C. McWilliam, W.B. Goodfellow, J. Holman, H.E. Ross, F. Clinch, R. Beatty, J.D. Maveety, Jas. Sanderson, J.A. Macdonald, J. McDonald, R. McKay, R. Mair, T.E. Parker, J. Olford, Sam. McLeod, H.W. Newlands, T.N. Campbell, N. McKenzie, J.F.A. Stull, G.C. MacLeod, T.O. Davis, R. Thompson.

The chair was ably filled by the president of the society, Mr. John Stewart, while the vice chairs were occupied by Messrs. Jas. McKay and H.W. Newlands.

After the cloth had been removed, the usual loyal toasts were given by the chairman and duly honored. "The day and a' winna honor it" was responded to by Capt. Craig in a masterly speech of fifteen minutes, in which he gave a short sketch of the origin of St. Andrew's festival and the reasons of its adoption by the Scotch as their national day, and spoke of the characteristics of Scotch men and their success abroad. We regret that a want of space will not permit a more extended report of this speech as it was well worth publishing in full.

From the first vice-chair "The Volunteers and N.W.M.P. Police" was responded to by Messrs. T.N. Campbell and H.E. Ross.

The "Dominion Parliament" was responded to by D.H. Macdonald, M.P., who made a capital speech interspersed with anecdotes illustrative of Scottish character, which was highly appreciated by the audience.

Messrs. Jas. Macarthur and R. Beatty responded to the next toast, "Our Commercial and Agricultural Interests," while Dr. Bain and Mr. H.W. Newlands did full justice to their subjects in responding to "The Learned Professions."

Mr. Newlands, 2nd vice-chairman, then gave "The Land we left and the Land we live in," to which the Rev. Dr. Jardine replied in a short but able speech. "The Town Council" was next proposed and responded to by Councillors Davis and Mair. "The Press" was replied to by Mr. W.R. Gunn in a few well chosen remarks, while Messrs. G.C. MacLeod and Jas. McKay championed the cause of "The Ladies." "Our Guests" was responded to by Messrs. Holman, Parker and R.C. Wignmore.

During the evening Capt. Craig recited the inimitable "I am O'Shanter," of Burns, in an able manner. J.H. Holman gave a recitation in fine style, and songs were rendered by Messrs. Capt. Craig, T.E. Parker, R. Thompson, Jas. Sanderson, Jos. Wignmore, Geo. Russell and others. A song in Gaelic, by G.C. MacLeod, brought down the house.

The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

T.E. Jackson has received a consignment of self-registering thermometers. These thermometers were specially ordered by Mr. Jackson and will register correctly as low as 70° below zero.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balm was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; cleans the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action; and it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balm will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced Cough Cure. If you have not tried the Balm, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

N. W. M. P. ENTERTAINMENT.

A most successful and enjoyable entertainment was given at the Barracks on the evening of the 26th instant, by E. Division Dramatic Club. The entertainment took place in the large mess room, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. The stage was an improvement on anything of the kind we have yet seen in Prince Albert, its scenery being particularly good and very artistic. The programme was quite lengthy, but not too long. It was carried out in a very pleasing manner and was never allowed to lag. The first part was a "Negro Circle" in which Sergt. Parker and Const. Oakden were "Bones" Consts. Terrien and Beaubien, "Banjos" with Const. Thompson as Interlocutor. Sergt. Parker made a capital "end man" and occasioned much amusement. One or two local hits were fired off, but were only average. In this part songs were rendered by Sergt. Parker, Corpl. Bird, Consts. Beehey, Tessier, Douglass, Oakden, and Conway and by the Circle. Some of these were good and well received, while others were a little flat and did not take as well. In Part II Const. Strachan recited "Mary Queen of Scots," but did not appear to be in good form. A song by Capt. Norman was rendered in splendid style and was encored. "The Vagabond," by Const. Tessier, and "Balaklava" by Corpl. Bird were well sung. But the cornet solo by Const. Halburn was perhaps the best executed piece in this part of the programme. His banjo solo was also well executed. An acrobatic exhibition by Consts. Beaubien and Oakden produced roars of laughter; the few feats they performed were really good.

The performance concluded with a farce entitled "To Paris and Back for $25." The leading parts were taken by Const. Strachan as "Sam Shoggle," in which he was simply immense and sustained the character throughout in a manner that would have done credit to a professional. Const. Conway, as "Joe," the hotel waiter, was also good, while Const. Douglass as "Capt. Markham" took his part well, as also did Corpl. Oliver, who took the part of a detective; and Sergt. Sweetapple, as "Fanny Spriggins," looked so sweet that a person who did not see the "cash" might have mistaken him for a veritable lady. The performance throughout was good and highly appreciated by all who took the pleasure of witnessing it. The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Perry in pleasing style. Between the different act selections were rendered by the Orchestra. God Save the Queen brought a most pleasant entertainment to a close.

CURLIANA.

A challenge game was played on Xmas eve between two rinks composed of the Georges and Johns of the club, which resulted in favor of the latter by one point. The representatives were:

GEORGES. JOHNES.
MacLeod. McTaggart.
Russell. Wynnechurch.
Norlgraves. Stewart.
Brown, skip. 7 Betts, skip.

Allen's Lung Balm was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; cleans the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action; and it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balm will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced Cough Cure. If you have not tried the Balm, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

JOS. O.

I HAVE LOST THE RACE

And candidly admit that I have been completely out-generalled, as I have not the Natural Qualification necessary to a Bush Fighter.

I have Lost the Battle, together with all my Ammunition. I have finished a Three Year's Race in search of more to pay up other people's debts and renew the attack on MY OWN GROUND in the open in defence of a principle which proved an antidote to the poison of the Bush Fighters' arrows.

I was fleeced nude, but have now a very plentiful supply of Ammunition, not only of the kind which is the Glory of the Chief of the Bush Fighters, but some Red Hot Powerful Dynamite sent to me by a "Fleeced" and conscience-stricken Traitor from the Bush Fighters' camp. This preparation is all powerful, and the moment it is hurled it will cause a swift dissociation of the molecular structure of the "Lineal descendant of Irish Kings," vide P. A. Directory. It will then appear that the modification has manifested itself in the structure known as Kingston P.

I have no such high claim. My only endeavor is to try to be a man; and covet only the good opinion and sympathy of all who are such, and I pledge myself to fight it out on this line, if it takes a lifetime. The manufacturers of Canada have offered and I have accepted Ammunition, which may be enumerated by thousands of Dollars, and although I import no Goods direct from the Old Country, I tell the truth about what is made at home.

"And if my voice break forth, 'tis not that now I shrink from what I suffer'd; let him speak."

Who hath beheld decline upon my brow, Or seen my mind's convulsions leave it weak.

Have I not had to weestle with my lot? Have I not suffer'd things to be forgiven? Have I not had my brain sear'd, my heart riven?

Hopes sapped, name blighted, life's life lied away?

And only not to desperation driven, Because not altogether of such kingly clay

As rote into the [core] of some whom I survey."
